Caribbean Polytechnic Institute Announces Virtual Live Learning
Real Time. On Time. On Budget. On Demand

Caribbean Polytechnic Institute is now offering LiveLearning. LiveLearning is the institution's platform for the delivery of online instructor-led training to meet the demands of individuals who favours learning in real-time with an instructor but still want the flexibility of engaging in the learning process from any convenient location of their choice, without the time and expense of travelling to a physical class location.

Organisations with workers in multiple geographic locations will stand to benefit from this learning modality. There is no complicated setup requirement, just high speed internet. Learners may work from devices such as PC or Mac computers or from most android or iOS hand-held devices

The courses that are now being offered on LiveLearning are:

1. Event Planning
2. Workplace Health and Safety

For more information on how to register for these courses please make contact with Keitha Beckford (beckfordk@captech.edu.jm). 876-366-5375. (<http://captech.edu.jm>)
